Items of Interest

Miss Stella Vincent, Postmistress, and her able assistants, have done wonders this year in handling the heavy holiday mail. All matter was efficiently and promptly delivered and dispatched.

In a total of approximately $6,000 of city taxes due, about $300 remains unpaid and delinquent.

Ray C. DeYoe was here last week for a brief visit with his mother.

Dr. T. C. McClellan and family are visitors here from Piedmont. They have the Thomas cottage for three weeks.

W. B. Swain of Marysville is spending the holidays with his family at the Marion cottage. Mr. Swain is in enthusiastic golfer and spends much time on the links while in Carmel.

Dr. J. D. Grissom and family of Oakland were holiday sojourners here.

Albert Van Houtte is up from the south to greet his many friends here during the holiday season. Also here is Francis Van Houtte, just returned from Coblenz, Germany, where he was with the Army of Occupation. The brothers had not met for twelve years.

Miss Rath McDowell of Los Angeles recently purchased the Newberry house on Monte Verde street, between 9th and 10th. She will take possession about the middle of January.

The Lowell Hardys—four of them—and Mrs. Mayhew, Mrs. Hardy's mother, are here for the family Xmas celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Witherbee of Sacramento are again here. They are registered at the Monte Verde. They expect to remain all winter.

Dr. Marian Burke of Palo Alto spent the holidays here, making her stay at the Krenn cottage.

Miss Ethel Dawson of Fresno, a classmate of Miss Josephine Rogers of Mills College, is visiting the Rogers family here.

Traffic conditions on Ocean avenue sidewalks have been congested all this week. New rolling stock in the shape of bicycles, pedometers, express wagons, skates, coasters, etc., propelled by small boys have obliged pedestrians to exercise vigilant care.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Criley had a Christmas eve dancing party at their Highland home Friday night. The guests arrived in Carmel early Saturday morning full of Christmas cheer.

Forest Theatre Elects Directors

All of the legal angles and tangles of incorporation and organization having been straightened out, a meeting of The Forest Theatre members held on December 21 elected the following representative board of nine directors:

Mrs. Edward A. Klengel.
Mrs. Valentine Mott Porter.
Frederick R. Bechdolt.
Charles R. Van Riper.
William T. Kibbler.
Thomas V. Cator.
James Hopper.
Evan Royal Mosher.
Theodore M. Criley.

Community Club Entertains

That intangible thing, the spirit of Christmas, became very real to the children of Carmel last Friday and to them shall always mean the Carmel Community Club's Christmas Eve party at Arts and Crafts Club.

That spacious, home like Hall was lighted entirely by candles and the ruddy glow of the Yule log in the huge fireplace; as the children came in, each with their pillow, which was to serve as a seat, they were most graciously received by the club hostess, Mrs. E. A. Klengel, who assigned them a place in the circle around the fire, where they sat happy, eager, expectant, now looking about the room, where a table stood bountifully laden with goodies, now wondering at the troupe of gypsies decked in all the gay colors and jingling things in which that race delights, but remaining almost awesomely quiet—little blonde heads

And then—the games. First came the musical chairs, always so enjoyable, then drop the handkerchief, blindman's buff, and many more, and into the midst of this hilarity, Perry Newberry, the ideal of Carmel children, upon his new velocipede, with a vast fund of jokes and funny stories to tell. His costume was most appropriate, and the eager interest with which the children followed him about and hung upon each word is tribute enough of the regard in which he is held. Amid shrieks of laughter the "boy" and the velocipede made their exit, and the children were served by the hostess and her corps of assistants, with many cups of orangeade, countless cookies and much candy.

The carol singers were announced, and all interest was centered upon the stage, from the center of which a single light gleamed soon came from an invisible source that sweetest with the light from the fire enhancing their blondness, dark eyes shining so brightly, little red cheeks becoming rosier; there never was a sweeter gathering.

Into their midst came the charming Mrs. Valentine Mott Porter, and in her customary delightful manner, told the beautiful story of the young giant Olhero and his quest for the Master, who was the strongest and most powerful; a truly beautiful Christmas story and most beautifully told.

Now came the gypsies with their songs and pretty folk dances, under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Burton, the story of the lady of high degree who had left her noble lord to follow the raggle-taggle gypsies, was most realistically told in dance and song by Miss Anne Clute as the lady, Miss Virginia Burton as her lord. The band of gypsies in their attractive garments were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Miller, R. Austin James, Ruth Cator, A. J. Greene, John Bastlett, Nancy Dugger, Margaret Clute.

of all Christmas hymns, "Adeste Fidelis"—"Come All Ye Faithful"—most beautifully sung by the carol singers of Carmel—Miss Laura A. Diersson, Mrs. Hope Whitney, Miss W. Covington, Mrs. R. C. Kirchner, Miss Anne Dare, Mrs. Stuehr, Thomas V. Cator, Argyll Campbell and Vasia Anikeeff.

During the singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" a most beautiful tableau was shown; three lovely maids attired in flowing robes, with huge wings and a golden halo and carrying a lighted torch, impersonating beautiful angels. Then came that ever-melodious hymn, "Holy Night," and as the sweet strain ended the joyful evening was over.

Out into the cold, clear night went happy hearts warmed by the Christmas spirit, and along the lanes of fragrant pines, with lights aglow in the windows the merry throng went on its way rejoicing for the success of the inauguration and establishment, as an annual event, the Children's Christmas Eve at the Carmel Community Club.

Items of Interest

Prof. George Hempl and family of Stanford University will be here on January 2 to remain two months. The Kellogg cottage will be their home.

Rev. Bayard Smith and daughter, recently returned from abroad, are leaving shortly for San Francisco, where there will reside during the winter.

Last call for the $1.50 annual subscription rate to the Pine Cone. But two days more in which to save 50 cents, expand the publishers' smile and extend your bank account. Eventually for $2.00, why not today for $1.50.

Lester Seib and Gordon Davis are here from Palo Alto, the guest of Arthur Cyril at the James bungalow.

The Flanders family of San Jose enjoyed an old-fashioned Christmas at their Carmel cottage, which overlooks the vast Pacific.

Rev. F. G. Williams left for the city Sunday afternoon to spend a week there with his wife and sons.

The Tolman cottage on San Carlos avenue is occupied this week by a group of people from Stockton.

Max Radin, a friend of the De Angelos, and a party of friends, are occupying the Cooke cottage. They walked down from San Francisco.

Eugene Gillett arrived in town last Friday, for Xmas with his family. He returned to Crockett on Monday, where he is employed by the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company.

Gordon Davis states that his mother and sister, who are now in Canada, will likely return to Palo Alto shortly. The climate up north does not agree with them.

Mrs. Jessie Fremont G. Herring, eminent art critic, will make an informal address on art at the Arts and Crafts Hall tomorrow afternoon, between 2 and 5 o'clock.

How beautiful it is after the storm, the sunbeams dancing on the rippling waters of Carmel Bay on Monday and Tuesday, made last week's storm seem a vague memory.

Give them a year's subscription to the Pine Cone. A fine New Year's gift. Like a weekly letter from home.

They Took Life Easy

Many Carmelites dispensed with the discouraging aftermath of Christmas dinner, last Saturday by taking advantage of the special menus provided at the hotel dining rooms. The Pine Inn, Sunset Lodge, La Playa, El Monte Verde and Highlands Inn entertained guests, whose number taxed their capacity, and many would-be diners-out were turned away for lack of accommodations.

Many good housewives, to whom Christmas day had meant merely a day of extra heavy toil and worry, sat at peace amid the hotel decorations and enjoyed service and cuisine—the equal of which is almost impossible in the private family.

The Pine Cone has a well-equipped job printing plant.

THE PINE CONE is devoted to Art, Letters, Music and the Drama, as well as to the business and social affairs of Carmel and vicinity. News items pertaining to these subjects will be welcomed by the News Editor, as well as your subscription, which will be increased to two dollars per year on after New Years.

Mother Carrington Flakes

Important Scientific Discovery

Xylotrechus nauticus, Mannerheim(?) This interesting beetle was captured a few days ago by Mother Carrington, which she describes as follows:

Description—This beetle is rather fat with short legs and rather long antennae. The color is as follows: Wing cases—upper grayish and lower blackish, with brown warts from which come long brown bristly hairs. A peculiarity is that the head and abdomen are a bright red.

Life History—Summer and winter in Carmel and Pacific Grove. Are nocturnal and diurnal in habits.

Nature of Work—Ornamenting the top of writing desks.

Food—Attacks cookies and candies. Control—Pull of head and exterminate.

Remarks by editor: Before placing this description in entomological records, the Pine Cone, being conservative, thinks it well to secure the opinion of so reliably qualified to discuss this specimen. Fortunately, we have such a one in Carmel, and his opinion will appear in our next issue.

The beetle is exhibited in the show window of the Carmel News Co.

Interesting Art News

Clark Hobart's work as a portrait artist is gaining much notice. There are not many California artists who specialize in this work, and Mr. Hobart's continued advancement in his chosen line is very gratifying to his friends and acquaintances in Carmel.

Carmelene are unanimous in support of the Fletcher bill, now pending in Congress, for the establishment of a Department of Fine Arts as part of our governmental activities. The bill provides for a branch in California and—while no better site than Carmel can be selected for the Californian branch, we shall probably receive but honorable mention.

A book of real value is to be found in the catalogue prepared by Nelson Laurvik, of the paintings by old masters, recently on exhibition at the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco. Besides a list of the pictures on exhibition the book contains commentaries upon the period represented, together with valuable information concerning the individual artists. The illustrations are beautiful and the printing of the highest order. It is so much more than an ordinary catalogue that it is worth permanent binding and preservation.

Development of Radiolife

(Fourth installment).

Many experimentors had reported that radium exerted a toxic action on plant life while others had declared to the contrary. Stocklosa repeated all these experiments, but in two series, one with very small amounts, the other with large amounts of radium. He found that in most of the later cases the effects were toxic, while in the former they were healthfully stimulating. He also found that various plants differed so materially in their susceptibility that the same amount of radium might be stimulant to one but toxic to another.

What was even more interesting and important, he showed that families of plants manifested this difference. He also discovered that radium increased the activity of those bacteria which take nitrogen from the atmosphere and fix it in the soil in the form of plant food, thus enriching the soil.

In the germination of seeds under low radium activity he obtained increases of 70 to 130 per cent, while high activities retarded germinations. He obtained remarkable increases in the vigor and yield of plants when low activities were employed, the greatest being in the early stages of growth, the ratio decreasing thereafter.

These studies taught that all the main functions of the living cell are greatly stimulated by radium. The fact that starch production went on in darkness, and other corroborative facts, indicated that the effects of radium closely resemble those of the ultra-violet rays of the sun.

Stocklosa succeeded in synthesizing sugar by this radioactivity. This explains the great increase in sweetness observed from the radium treatment of beets, carrots, tomatoes, pumpkins, squashes, melons, sweet corn and other vegetables.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famine, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelve-month just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding-stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The undersigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization, for the $23,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child-feeding, the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE WHITE HOUSE.

THE home of the president of the United States, generally known as the White House, first became known as such when it was painted white to cover the marks of fire after being partially burned by the British in 1814. The foundation of this world-famous structure was put down in October, 1792. It was the first building erected in Washington. The site was picked by President George Washington, who also laid the corner stone.

The building was first occupied by President John Adams, during the summer of 1800. It is two stories and basement, and contains 31 rooms. It is surrounded by a spacious lawn and gardens, which are inclosed by a huge iron fence. Whether viewed through the heavy foliage of the giant trees or across winter's mantle of snow, it always looks restful and dignified.

The White House naturally has been the scene of many tragedies and comedies, much joy, and also has had its share of anxiety and grief. It holds a peculiar interest for the people of all nations, those of the United States in particular. It is a point of pilgrimage for thousands and thousands of people annually, who come to admire its decorations and paintings, study the relics of past occupants and, if opportunity offers, grasp the hand of the first citizen of the land. To a greater degree perhaps than any other building in the world, people of all ages and ranks have mingled under its roof.

Sad Blight of Children

3,500,000 Facing Starvation Can Only Be Saved by America's Response to Joint Appeal.

It is utterly impossible for one who has not actually seen the misery of the early Autumn in Europe to visualize what the children of the Eastern and Central portions of the continent face this winter. To say that 3,500,000 children have no alternative to starvation or death from disease except American aid, is startling, but independent observers by the score and careful scientific surveys of the economic and crop conditions overseas brand the figure as conservative.

In Poland, for instance, where 1,308,000 youngsters last year subsisted almost entirely on the one free American meal a day that they received, conditions as winter closes down, are worse than ever before. The Bolshevik invasion stripped large portions of the country of all grain. Professor E. D. Durand, Food Advisor to the Polish government, after an exhaustive survey, has reported that only forty per cent is available of the food necessary to carry the population through the winter.

In the city of Vienna tests conducted in the American Relief Administration food kitchens showed that 52 per cent of the children between the ages of 6 and 14 were "seriously under-nourished." Thirty-three per cent were markedly under-nourished, 11 per cent were slightly subnormal and only 4 per cent approached the state of a normal American child. The American Relief Administration is feeding 300,000 Austrian children every day now, and there is no chance of diminution of need before next harvest.

The spectacle of the medical needs of Europe's children is equally appalling. Estimates reaching the American Red Cross as to needs for medical service in the destitute areas this winter include: Old Austria-Hungary, 750,000; new Poland, 1,500,000; Czechoslovakia, 200,000; Serbia, 150,000; and Roumania, 100,000. In the last year of 1919-20 the Red Cross has reached with the veritable gift of life 1,500,000 children in the affected areas. Tuberculosis is prevalent to a terrific degree. Five children out of seven in the city of Warsaw, for instance, have been found to be tubercular. Typhus is widespread; rickets, the right hand of under-nourishment is almost universal, and cholera lifts its grim head constantly in one place and another.

The European Relief Council, comprising the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., seeks $33,000,000 with which to meet the situation. It has estimated that at least $23,000,000 must be had for food and $10,000,000 for medical service to avert absolute disaster among the threatened children. Checks may be sent to your local committee or to Franklin K. Lane, treasurer European Relief Council, 42 Broadway, New York, or to the Child Feeding Fund, Literary Digest, New York City.

Miss Alice Gale, formerly of the Schweininger grocery store staff, is here from San Francisco for a week visiting Mrs. F. Yard and greeting her many friends.

"Farewell Old Year."

Good-bye Old Year, with all thy pain and sadness,
Of hopes deferred and hearts made sick and sore,
And visions bright, alas, robb'd of their gladness
That knew no shadow of a cloud before.

Good-bye Old Year, we cannot stop thy passing,
For time and death are ever on the wing;
Nor would we, if it were but for the asking
Because 'tis ordered by our Lord and King.

Good-bye Old Year, take with thee all repining
And all the cross that makes our lives unfit
And give us faith that we may see the shining
Of a new born year—and for it make us fit.

To fight with stronger faith the things that now distress us,
And firm belief that right will still prevail;
For God is God, and He will still possess us,
Therefore be strong in Him, and we shall never fail.

Differ on Christ's Birthday

THE early Christmas were divided as to the date on which the nativity of Christ should be celebrated. Some of these celebrated it on the first or sixth of January, other groups observed September 29 and still another March 29. As early as the fourth century, however, the period of the new year had been generally accepted as the time for celebrating Christ's birth. The Western branch of the church observed December 25 and the Eastern church January 6. Finally it was decided that all should celebrate December 25. Pope Julius I, who presided in the first half of the fourth century, is credited with having set the date.

TUNA FISH DISHES.

This delicate turkey of the sea, should be more appreciated. The following dishes are but suggestions, as there are any number of combinations making most delicious eating.

Tuna in Peppers.

Cut peppers in halves lengthwise; remove the seeds and put peppers to soak in very cold water. Beat four eggs slightly; add one cupful of milk, two cupfuls of tuna, one cupful of bread crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Pack the mixture into the peppers and sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over the top. Brown in the oven and eat hot.

Tuna Salad.

Take three cupfuls of tuna, one cupful of diced celery, one hard-cooked egg, one green pepper shredded, one cupful of thick mayonnaise, one-half cupful of French dressing, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped olives. If well made this salad is more delicious than the most inviting chicken salad. Several hours before serving, mix the tuna, egg, green pepper and celery together, adding the French dressing gradually. Just before serving add the chopped olives; toss lightly, put into a salad bowl and arrange a thick mayonnaise over the top.

Tuna Chop Suey.

Take one pound of fresh pork, one cupful of tuna flaked, one cupful of diced celery, one cupful of chopped onions, one cupful of chopped peanuts, one can of mushrooms, one tablespoonful of butter and salt and pepper to taste. Put the butter into a deep frying. Cut pork in small pieces and cook in the frying pan with celery and onions. Cover with one cupful of water, the mushrooms and the liquor; simmer one hour. Add peanuts, tuna, seasoning, and cook half an hour longer.

Tuna in Timbales.

Cook two eggs until hard. Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter and add yolks; when blended and smooth, add the juice of one lemon, salt and pepper to taste; two cupfuls of flaked tuna, one-half cupful of cream and two well-beaten eggs. Cook over hot water until well cooked. Fill the timbale cases and cover with parmesan cheese. Brown in the oven.

If the fresh fish is used in any of the above recipes, of course it must be cooked before using. These recipes call for the canned tuna. Salmon may be substituted, but it is not as desirable because of its oily, fishy taste, which is almost lacking in tuna.

Music Matters

Mme. Emilia Tojetti, well-known singer, musician and art patron, died at her home on Scott street, San Francisco, several days ago, after a brief illness. A native of California, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Munro, pioneers of the State.

Mme. Tojetti was a graduate of the San Francisco Girls' High School and received her entire musical education in that city, rising to a point of note both as a concert singer and as a promoter of good music.

Efforts to secure for Berkeley one of the five national conservatories of music provided for in the Fletcher bill now before Congress, were taken up recently by the City Council, following a meeting Sunday of the music lovers of the bay district, at which plans were made to that end. The Council adopted a resolution inviting the consideration of Berkeley as a site for the institution.

Mrs. Annie N. Baldwin, a pianist, who had been associated with many musical celebrities, died in Boston last week. She was a sister of the late Lillian Nordica, and was her accompanist on many concert tours in America and abroad.

Public Park Wanted

Public resentment against toll charges being collected from the many who visit Point Lobos, is becoming acute. That wonder spot—once dedicated to the public for ever—on our coast, justly noted for its beauties, should and will be designated as Point Lobos National Park on future maps of Monterey county.

Observations

FROM THE

Editorial SanctumA Little Discourse

What went before, what is and what the future holds, is uppermost in the minds of mortals at the year's end. To the thinking person the period of the passing of the old and the advent of the new year brings with it a measure of retrospective thought and a research of the possibilities held by the future.

Readers of the Pine Cone have noted and commented upon the improvement of the journal, and the favorable things that have been said have heartened and encouraged the publishers to make of the Pine Cone during 1921, a publication that will merit the enthusiastic support of artists, writers, musicians and others, not only of Carmel, but everywhere.

The publishers need and request the co-operation of all their growing clientele to realize their ideals.

We wish you health and prosperity during 1921.

A number of large business concerns, moved by the very obvious need of doing Americanization work among their employees, have distributed what is known as the People's Edition of the United States Constitution to all on their payrolls. This is a wholly commendable measure to help the native, as well as the foreign born, to become 100 per cent American.

The Pine Cone's New Year resolution is: To keep all of its present friends and make new ones by publishing a newspaper that reflects the spirit of the wholesome community in which it lives, and to give its whole-hearted support to the welfare of Carmelenos, individually and collectively.

Exit the Old, enter the New,
May troubles fly with '20;
May '21, for me and you,
Bring joy and peace and plenty.

That the spirit of the season is abroad is evidenced by the fact that the Pine Cone has received cards of Christmas greetings and good wishes for the New Year from several of its advertisers. Such cards, received by many advertising managers would spell the near approach of the millenium, but we note their receipt as a token of value received.

Books and Authors

The Century Company announces the issuance of Rose Wilder Lane's "The Making of Herbert Hoover." It is a fascinating biography of the world's best-known private citizen. The youth of our country will profit by reading this book.

"Turn About Tales," by Alice Hagen Rice and Cale Young Rice, is recently off the press. Five good stories are told in this volume. Carmelenos will recall that "Yolanda of Cyrus," produced at our Forest Theatre in 1916, was written by Cale Young Rice.

Ambitious literary persons will not be surprised to learn that Mary Roberts Rinehart is the highest-paid writer of either sex in the United States. Surely this is an age of feminism. Several years ago this lady was reaping an annual emolument of $100,000. As her output and consequently her stipends and royalties have greatly increased since then, one hesitates to estimate the sum upon which she now pays income tax.

Mrs. Josephine Clifford McCracken, 83 years old, a literary associate of Bret Harte, Ambrose Bierce, Wm. C. Morrow, Charles Warren Stoddard, A. J. Waterhouse and Edwin Markham, died at Santa Cruz last week. She was a frequent contributor to the Overland Monthly in the early days.

Carmel friends are making effort to induce Mrs. Elinor Glyn, noted English novelist, to visit here. She recently arrived in California from London to gather material for a novel and film drama. She was the guest of honor of the University Fine Arts Society last Monday evening at the Hotel St. Francis.

Miss Ida A. R. Wylie, author of "Children of Storm," published by the John Lane Company, has just returned to her home in England after a year's sojourn in the United States, during which she and a woman companion drove a car something more than 7,000 miles over the deserts and mountains in California, and made quite a stay in Carmel.

"Shakespeare from Betterton to Irving," by George C. D. Odell, published by Chas. Scribner's Sons, claims that "primarily Shakespeare was a dramatist and his work redolent of the stage."

We may search vainly through the notes of Johnson, Stevens and Malone—whose works extend from 1766 to 1821—for a hint as to how a scene was acted or a line spoken on the stage, altho that period comprehends the days of Garrick, the Kembles and Mrs. Siddons. The explanation of this lies in the fact that all these editors regarded the author not as a dramatist and playwright, but as a poet. Hemingway and Conell, the fellow actors of Shakespeare, likewise said so.

That their views were false ones has long been an accepted fact, but they have been brought forward to contrast the older views with the more modern method of studying Shakesperian drama through its stage history, as is the custom of Carmel's students.

Christmas at the Churches

Christmas at Carmel Mission was celebrated with fitting ceremonies by Father R. M. Mestres.

A High Mass was celebrated at 9:45 a. m., followed by benediction.

A special musical program was prepared for this service by Thomas Vincent Cator, choir director and soloist.

The church had been decorated with greens by the ladies of the Altar Society and now, as in the early days of the Mission, the joyful strains of the "Adeste Fidelis" at Christmas tide rang out with the same glad spirit that Father Serra instilled into the first service.

At All Saint's Church the Christmas services were conducted by the rector. The impressive singing of melodies and appropriate hymns was followed by the offertory sung by Miss Estelle Carpenter—a most beautiful rendition of that charming carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The Christmas service at the Methodist Church was presented to members and visitors Saturday morning, special music by the choir and solo by Miss Jessie White. In the afternoon the Christmas tree for the children and in the evening the singing of carols, solo by Miss Covington and "The Story of the Man Who Found His Soul" by the pastor.

How It Started

HIGH HEELS.

QUEEN ELIZABETH'S reign started the fashion of high heels for women's shoes. The pair of her shoes which is preserved to the present date must have made her three inches taller when she wore them. The heels were added to increase the height of the wearer to so make her more stately and impressive.
